THE MISSION OF NEW JERUSALEM LUTHERAN CHURCH:

We are a group of people who gather together in friendship and love to worship God, to spread God's Word, and to care for God's people.

“This Is My Father’s World”

Our Father’s world: late Spring and summertime are such wonderful times to explore the wonders of our Creator’s world, the world God loves so much!

“And to my listening ears...” In early June, Cliff and Sue Schlenker, my husband, Rick, and I along with 7 others from our synod will travel to Saxony, Germany, to meet brothers and sisters in faith. Together we will explore their hometowns, Berlin and Wittenberg. Since English is not the native language of our hosts, nor German ours, we will need to listen intently to one another in order to understand what each person is saying. We will also listen intently for what God’s Spirit is saying to us through the discussions we hold with our new friends and our visits to areas not only rich in Reformation history, but also facing challenges of modern life, especially the challenge of refugees.

“...[A]ll nature sings, and round me rings the music of the spheres.” The music of birds and crickets and flowing streams, warm dark clear nights perfect for star gazing, the conversation and laughter of friends and children: yes, the world in our area is filled with wonder-filled sights and sounds. What other areas of God’s creation will you explore this summer? In the sights and sounds we experience we can truly “rest [ourselves] in the thought of rocks and trees, of skies and seas. . . [that] declare their maker’s praise.”

But all is not always well with this marvelous world that God has created. We humans misuse and abuse our natural resources. Our brothers and sisters in Germany struggle as we do with the issues of how to provide meaningful employment and sufficient resources for all within their borders as well as how to be compassionate to those who are desperate for refuge. They struggle as we do to choose wise leaders who care not just for their nation, but are able to appreciate the larger international picture and negotiate for justice throughout the world. They struggle as we do with concerns over terrorism and war in the Middle East and elsewhere.

Since God, who with great enthusiasm created everything that exists and tenderly formed humankind in God’s very image, that means every human being that we meet or hear about is our sister and our brother. Every human being, near or far, challenges us to see and welcome God in him. Every human being calls us to reflect God to her and the rest of creation through our lives and actions. Even as we continue through the election process in our nation, we are called to remember that we are not to engage in mudslinging or bear false witness against anyone whom God has created. Rather, we are called to use “our listening ears” and to humbly and prayerfully contemplate and evaluate what each candidate and party proposes. We are then called to support by words and actions what we hear God calling us to do for the good of every sister and brother and all of creation.

This is my Father’s world; oh, let me not forget that, though the wrong seems oft so strong, God is the ruler yet.
This is my Father’s world; why should my heart be sad?
The Lord is king, let the heavens ring; God reigns, let the earth be glad!

NEWS & EVENTS

in New Jerusalem Lutheran Church and the Synod

Council Meeting Update

The following items were among those discussed at the May 16th meeting:

- New Jerusalem's Church Picnic will be held on Sunday, July 31st after worship.
- The Constitution has been updated by the committee. It will be presented to the congregation and voted upon sometime in October.
- Daniel Bailey has been hired as the new sexton. We welcome him into his new position at New Jerusalem Lutheran Church.
- At the Synod Assembly, as part of God's Playground, New Jerusalem will have a display from Cruise for a Cure.
- A new projector has been ordered for use in Christian Education and during worship.

Confirmation Class Update

As of May 29th our confirmands will have completed their first season of study and have begun to serve on a regular basis in our Sunday worship: reading lessons, bidding prayers, and serving as acolytes.

In April and May students have been reading the Book of Luke. Have you been keeping up with them? As of May 15th all of them reported being at least ½ way through! Well done! During class we've begun exploring what the New Testament is, what the land is like where Jesus lived, and have begun identifying the different characters we meet in Luke and thinking about what Jesus was and is about.

Our plans for the summer include service and fun times as well as regular worship. Help our confirmands feel increasingly incorporated into our family by making a point to speak to them each Sunday.

Pastoral Care Coverage

Pastor Cheryl Meinschein will be covering for Pastor Ruth while she is out of town for continuing education from June 4th to June 15th. If you would require pastoral care during this time, please contact Pastor Meinschein at 610-682-7664 or 610-395-2777.

Great Summer Reading: The Gospel of Luke

The Gospel of Luke was written for those, like us, not familiar with the Jewish faith. It also has some of our favorite stories: the Good Samaritan, the Prodigal Son, the Rich Man and Lazarus. If you haven't yet joined us in reading the gospel from which most of our lessons come this year, just start or pick up a sheet in the Narthex that has the sections the confirmands have been reading. Write down things you wonder about and ask Pastor Ruth. She won't have all the answers, but she'll be happy to explore the topics with you.

Cover It In Black

A year ago we voted to repave our parking lot before it became so bad it would have to be totally replaced. As an additional benefit, those who come for worship or our many fellowship events have a much safer area for walking.

Have you been watching the poster in the fellowship area—the one with the picture of our church and an outline of an old, grey cracked parking lot? We are using that to track how well we are doing on repaving the funds we borrowed from ourselves to pay for the macadem. We are already over an eighth of the way. Let's see how quickly we can finish the job.

Marking the "Parking Lot Fund" line on the offering envelopes is one way to donate. Other donations can be made using a regular envelope marked "Parking Lot Fund" and listing name, amount, and contact information. Remember, we still need funds to cover ongoing expenses, so please make the contribution to the parking lot over and above what you normally give.

Mission Support (Benevolence)

Of the $1,623 our congregation contributed as benevolence to the synod in 2014, $746 was forwarded to the national church.

In 2014 the ELCA used 15% of the funds it received from all its synods ($112 of our donation) to support and develop current and future leaders in the ELCA by:

- a) supporting the work of 8 ELCA seminaries and 26 colleges and universities;
- b) offering events and leadership opportunities for youth and young adults;
- c) recruiting, preparing and implementing a system for assignment of 9,250 rostered leaders; and
- d) identifying, connecting and providing ministry resources and opportunities for networking for lay leaders.

Our national church used another 15% to coordinate and support churchwide ministries by:

- a) maintaining constituent databases;
- b) preserving and maintaining archives;
- c) equipping congregations and synods with resources to assist in risk management and other legal matters;
- d) providing office space, equipment and human resources for staff; and
- e) processing 131,000 gifts to ELCA ministries.

ELCA Campaign Always Being Made New Reaches 40% of Its Goal.

“At a time when some wonder if the church has the capacity to be engaged in the world, we are actually extending our work. Truly, together we can do more.” wrote ELCA presiding bishop, Elizabeth Eaton.

Launched in 2014, the campaign seeks to raise $198 million to help sustain and expand the ministries of the church through four priorities: Congregations, Hunger and Poverty, Leadership and Global Church. The additional resources will help our church grow our communities of faith, form new leaders, welcome our neighbors, overcome malaria, confront hunger and poverty, accompany our global churches and so much more.

"Dark as my path may seem to others, I carry a magic light in my heart. Faith, the spiritual strong searchlight, illumines the way, and although sinister doubts lurk in the shadow, I walk unafraid toward the enchanted wood where the foliage is always green, where joy abides ... in the presence of the Lord."

—Helen Keller

Ephesians 6:2 mentions one of the Ten Commandments as being "the first commandment with a promise." The commandment is the fifth which reads: "Honor your father and mother." Which of the statements below is the promise?

- A. "So that it may be well with you and you may live long on the earth."
- B. "So that you will have a happy home life."
- C. "So that they may be proud of you. Always."
- D. "So that you may learn and grow from their wisdom."

Answer: A (see Ephesians 6:3)

Let's Love Trees

God must love trees, because he made so many of them. Where would we be without trees? They provide us with wood, fruits and nuts. They're home for birds, squirrels, monkeys and other animals. Children climb them, build "houses" in them and hang swings from their limbs.

Trees help keep homes cooler, thus lowering the cost of air conditioning. They fight global warming, add nutrients to the soil, and help clean streams and rivers.

Trees can increase a home's value by up to 15 percent. They also add beauty to a neighborhood with their amazing colors and restful shade.

They're God's gift to us and they bless us in more ways than we might imagine. Just think: Where would Zacchaeus have been without a tree? (See Luke 19:1-10)

Did you know?

The Peacock's Symbolism

The beautiful peacock is likely one of the lesser-known Christian symbols. Based on an ancient myth that its flesh doesn't decay after death, early Christians appropriated the bird as a symbol of immortality. The molting of its tail feathers each year to be replaced with supposedly more beautiful ones led to use of the peacock as a sign of resurrection and glorification.

Additionally, the eye-like pattern in the peacock's tail feathers made it a symbol of conscience and of God, who sees all. However, the peacock also represents arrogance as it struts to show off its plumage. During the Baroque period, the peacock was often part of artwork at the 10th Station of the Cross, depicting Jesus stripped of his clothing—atonement, according to some teachings, specifically for our sin of vanity.

Early Christians believed peacocks shriek when they catch sight of their feet, which they consider ugly. Christians took this as a reminder that we, too, should lament our spiritual imperfections that detract from the beauty of life lived in Christ.

Just a Thought

At the communion rail, a man held out his hand to receive the bread. His curious toddler by his side loudly asked, “Is it good, Daddy?” He smiled and nodded yes.

Indeed, communion is a good gift from Jesus, who wants us to remember his sacrifice for us. The next time you receive communion, remember to “taste and see that the LORD is good!” (Psalm 34:8, emphasis added).

The Turtle on the Post

Two retired men met for dinner one evening. They began to talk about the influence their fathers had on them. One man, Ev, recalled that every time something went wrong his father would remark, “Well, remember the turtle on the post,” then the father would walk away. Ev did not pay much attention to what the father was communicating. However, when Ev was a college student and a bit more mature and prone to listen to his father, he heard his dad make the statement again. “Remember the turtle on the post.” Then the father turned and started to walk away.

It was then that Ev stopped him, “Well, Dad,” he said, “what about the turtle on the post? You always say that and walk away. What do you mean?”

The father looked at the young man and said, “Do you know how the turtle got up on the post?”

“No,” answered Ev.

“No?” replied the father, “Well, he had help.”

Think about it. Where would we be without family members, friends or fellow Christians to help, advise and encourage us? The turtle needed help and so do we. “In Christ we who are many form one body, and each member belongs to all the others” (Romans 12:5).
